

one to an alternative health professional?

PerfectBalance Multivitamin is based on Mainstream Medicine's critical knowledge and healing ability.

60% of All Deaths Are Caused By Heart Attack, Stroke, and Cancer

American Health Statistics show that 60% of all deaths are caused by heart attack, stroke, and cancer. And these are, of course, the leading causes of untimely death. Everyone agrees it is natural for human beings to die, but an untimely death is clearly the worst way to make your exit.

PerfectBalance Multivitamin improves health and helps to protect anyone from the 3 leading causes of untimely death. If you and your loved ones don't take PerfectBalance Multivitamin, what are you doing to improve your health and prevent these diseases for yourselves? Nothing? Or something less than what Mainstream Medicine knows is required? To not do what's required is like seeing a hurled rock flying towards your face – and not ducking. Good luck!

What People Have Reported While Taking PerfectBalance Multivitamin

You already know I formulated PerfectBalance Multivitamin for the serious business of improving health and preventing disease but, remarkably, people who take the multivitamin everyday report these outstanding results also:

- 1. HEALTHIER GUMS: People, whose gums bleed when they brush their teeth, notice within 7 days, that such bleeding, a sign of weak blood vessels, no longer occurs.
- 2. MORE ENERGY: Within 7 to 14 days, most people feel an increase in energy.
- 3. BETTER SEX PERFORMANCE: Within about 21 days, people notice a pleasant improvement in their sexual performance.
- 4. MORE LUXURIANT HAIR: Within about one month, people notice an increased growth of hair. In addition, the hair does not break off as easily as it used to.
- 5. STRONGER NAILS: Within about two months, people notice that their nails have become stronger and grow much faster.

6. BETTER SKIN: Within about three months, people notice a better skin. This is not just on their faces; the better skin is all over the body.

7. SLOWING OF THE AGING PROCESS: Over time, people notice that their aging process has slowed. The speaking voice, posture, the mind, physical ability, and attitude, all remain youthful. This is because what people now accept as normal aging is, indeed, a result of seriously low vitamin levels.

Important as it is, disease prevention is not something you can feel. You can't wake up in the morning and feel: Ah, I have just prevented a heart attack! But you'll know that my formula is performing its task when you feel any of the seven results, which others have reported.

I Researched Vitamins, Health, & Disease And Discovered 10 Surprises

- 1. People will eat what they like, even when they know it's not good for them.
- 2. What people like to eat used to be what their body needed. But that was before the over-processing of foods was introduced by the modern food-processing industry.
- 3. Poisons from the polluted environment enter our body with the air we breathe, the water we drink, and the food we eat. There is no way to avoid them all.
- 4. Medicines are poisons, whether they are prescribed by medical doctors like me, by herbalists, or bought over-the-counter. Blood pressure medicines, antibiotics, antidepressants, etc., as well as tea, coffee, alcohol, tobacco, cocaine, marijuana, and other recreational drugs, are not food, nor are they vitamins. They are all poisons.
- 5. To neutralize any poisons that enter it, the body employs biochemical processes, which require vitamins. Therefore, to neutralize the heavier load of poisons that enter the body from today's polluted environment, the body needs more vitamins.
- 6. Today's diet can no longer supply the increased vitamin needs of the body since our diet now includes so many over-processed foods. The over-processed foods are delicious, no doubt about it, but they are not what our foods once were. Today's foods are no longer the same wholesome foods that our bodies expect them to be because, during processing, many foods lose their natural fiber, their vitamins, and their minerals.
- 7. A slow devastation of health occurs in people who consume too little vitamins. Their ignorance or willful neglect of this fact makes no difference whatsoever. The slow devastation of health occurs, nevertheless.
- 8. The damage to health, caused by low vitamin intake, is extremely common. Neither a high level of education, nor a large income, provides any protection.
- 9. Most people are low in vitamins and don't know it. Vast numbers of people, doctors included, do not realize they are low in vitamins. And, not realizing that they are low in vitamins, they ignorantly accept the resulting damage to their health, and their weak vitality, as normal. Or they mistakenly accept their damaged health and weak vitality as the signs of advancing age.

10. The dose of specific vitamins in a good multivitamin must be in balance. The dose of every vitamin in a multivitamin formulation must maintain a particular ratio to the other vitamins in the mix. If not, the effectiveness of the formulation may be diminished or lost.

After My Research, I Took Action

On the basis of my research, I calculated what would be, in today's much polluted world, the true vitamin needs of the body. Next, I drew up a multivitamin formula that would provide it. The formula consisted of 31 vitamins and minerals, exact in dosage, and with every dose in precise balance.

With my formula in hand, I went into the marketplace to buy a commercial multivitamin that would give me the needed dosage and balance. To my great disappointment, I found none. I discovered, instead, that no vitamin house manufactured any multivitamin that comes even close to the right dosage and balance.

With no manufacturer able to supply my personal needs, I did something I had not previously considered. I began the manufacture of my research-based multivitamin formula, because it was the only way I could fill my own vitamin needs.

Because the dose of each of the 31 vitamins and minerals is so perfectly set, so precisely in balance, I named my formulation PerfectBalance Multivitamin.

Who Formulates Vitamins?

Have you ever wondered who formulated all those vitamins you see in the stores, or the ones sold by all those MLM distributors? Probably not. And neither have most people. It is noteworthy that every multivitamin you have ever heard of (except PerfectBalance Multivitamin of course) is formulated by nutritionists, biochemists, or pharmacists. Every single one of them.

Nutritionists, biochemists, and pharmacists are highly trained scientists, but they are, of course, not medical doctors. And since they are not medical doctors, they do not understand how the human body works in health and disease. Only medical (and osteopathic) doctors do. That vital difference is due to the inevitable differences in the education and work of the various groups of health professionals. Here's how:

Only Medical Doctors Have The Fullest Understanding of Health & Disease

Nutritionists, biochemists, and pharmacists have never examined, diagnosed, treated, and followed even one sick person from life-threatening illness to good health, or to his or her death and then performed an autopsy to see what really went wrong. Nutritionists, biochemists, and pharmacists have never performed surgery on a living human being. Only medical doctors (and osteopathic physicians) are authorized, by law, to examine and treat a patient and, when necessary, to also perform surgery or an autopsy. It is this kind of practical, life-and-death education and work-experience that puts medical (and osteopathic) doctors in an exclusive category among scientists. Medical (and osteopathic) doctors understand the human body in health and in disease, and they do so in a way that no other scientists do – or can, by law.

It is therefore significant that PerfectBalance Multivitamin is formulated, not by a nutritionist, a biochemist, or a pharmacist, but by a medical doctor. It is the first multivitamin ever formulated by a medical doctor. It was not, however, formulated by just any medical doctor; PerfectBalance Multivitamin was formulated by a medical doctor who happens to be a brilliant neurosurgeon. And as you know, only the brightest medical doctors get to become neurosurgeons.

PerfectBalance Multivitamin: What Does It Really Do?

As you know, I formulated PerfectBalance Multivitamin years ago to improve my own health and prevent disease for myself. I based my formula on the accumulated knowledge of the Mainstream Medical Profession. My research proved conclusively to me that this multivitamin could improve anyone's health and help prevent such killers as heart attack, stroke, and cancer – plus many other serious diseases, too numerous to be listed here.

We all respect and appreciate the alternative health professions. Let us also be clear as to which health profession has the most critical healing abilities. To decide, consider this question: If your father or your child suddenly developed an acute intestinal obstruction from a strangulated hernia, where would you take this seriously ill member of your family? To a Mainstream Medical Doctor for the required - and curative - emergency surgery, or would you take your critically ill loved
